

Fig. 15.1. This bone marrow section stained with the Puchtler Congo red procedure reveals intense amyloid deposits in the bone marrow sample. (Photo courtesy of Freida Carson, PhD.)