

Fig. 15.10. Although the amyloid is well demonstrated in this section, close inspection reveals a red granular precipitate caused by using isopropyl alcohol instead of ethyl alcohol as the solvent for the salt solutions. (Image courtesy of Janet Tunncliffe, MLT, ART.)