

BGI, Qiagen partnership, 6/15

June 2015—Qiagen has expanded its relationship with BGI to provide Qiagen's Ingenuity Variant Analysis in integrated bioinformatics for all customers of BGI's sequencing services. Under the reseller agreement, BGI customers will receive sequencing data generated from their samples through Ingenuity Variant Analysis' secure, cloud-based environment and gain access to its comprehensive gene variant data and genomic interpretation applications. BGI will provide Ingenuity Variant Analysis to customers in China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan, with plans to expand to other regions throughout the year. BGI collaborates with more than 10,000 organizations and 30,000 partners worldwide, providing sequencing services for thousands of research projects, including large-scale genome initiatives.
