

Binding Site, Rockland enter distribution agreement, 6/16

June 2016—The Binding Site Group has entered into an exclusive, definitive agreement with Rockland Immunochemicals to grant Rockland global distribution rights for Binding Site's line of animal-focused radial immunodiffusion test kits. The RID immunoassay kits incorporate monospecific antibodies in an agarose gel to provide accurate quantitation.

The products are aimed at meeting the needs of laboratory professionals conducting basic, applied, and clinical research in the veterinary, biomedical, life-science, genomics, and drug discovery fields.
