

Dako, Cell Signaling Technology partnership, 3/15

March 2015—Dako, an Agilent Technologies company, and Cell Signaling Technology have entered into a strategic partnership to supply antibodies for use in Dako-branded companion diagnostics products.

“We are pleased to work with CST in the development of high-quality, cutting-edge companion diagnostic products that will be an important tool in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer,” said Jacob Thaysen, president of Agilent’s diagnostics and genomics group.
