

Digital Pathology Blog: Addicted To Digital Pathology

A funny thing happened to me on my way to the office a few months back. After many years in the thought and planning process our anatomic pathology laboratory with one of our hospital partners is being renovated. As part of the renovation, temporary workspaces and relocation of equipment and personnel is needed. [\[more\]](#)

More CAP TODAY Recommends