

Eppendorf and Science Prize for Neurobiology, 4/13:85

Eppendorf North America and the journal Science are now accepting applications for the 2013 Eppendorf and Science Prize for Neurobiology—an annual international research prize of $25,000. The prize is awarded to one young scientist for his or her outstanding contributions to neurobiology research. Researchers 35 years old or younger are invited to apply by June 15.
