

FDA clears PixCell HemoScreen for direct capillary sampling

October 2023—PixCell Medical announced that the FDA has granted 510(k) clearance for direct capillary sampling with the HemoScreen 5-part differential CBC analyzer. The clearance enables collection of a sample directly from a patient's finger without an intermediate tube. HemoScreen is also FDA cleared for point-of-care use with venous and capillary blood.

PixCell Medical, 720-715-7215