

Globe Scientific introduces Globe/Euromex microscopes

March 2023—Globe Scientific has introduced a line of Globe/Euromex microscopes and microscope accessories. The line is composed of 24 CE-certified stereoscopic, compound, and inverted binocular and trinocular microscopes and 12 microscope accessories. Customers can access several support tools, including a microscope selection guide and Euromex Academy, which includes online video tutorials, user manuals, educational blogs, and more.

“Globe Scientific is excited to add the Globe/Euromex microscope line to our already broad base of laboratory products. Globe’s long history of superior customer support and Euromex’s proposition of premium features at more reasonable costs create a win-win for our channel partners and, most importantly, end users,” Christian Dyott, Globe Scientific vice president of product management, said in a press release.
