

Laboratory billing services provider

written by CAP TODAY

April 20, 2023

April 2023—Laboratory Billings is a revenue cycle management firm that aims to help laboratories achieve a higher first-pass claims rate and reduce accounts receivable. The company offers medical billing services to clinical and reference laboratories and shares real-time analytics about the revenue cycle. “We help laboratories become financially resilient and reduce the complexities in the administrative workflows,” according to a company statement. “Our billing and coding experts possess in-depth understanding of the revenue cycle management.” More information about the company is available at <https://laboratorybillings.com>.

Laboratory Billings, 505-521-2145

©2026 CAP TODAY, all rights reserved.