

Microbiologics expands molecular diagnostics QCs

September 2018—Microbiologics has launched a series of panels for verification and routine quality control of common molecular assays. The eight panels include four for women's health and sexually transmitted infection testing and four for blood culture and gastrointestinal testing. The panels are designed to mimic patient sample processing and feature pellets and swabs pre-pooled with multiple strains, and room-temperature storage.

*Microbiologics*, 320-253-1640