

QuidelOrtho, Runda form joint venture to develop assays

January 2023—QuidelOrtho will form a joint venture between Ortho Clinical Diagnostics Trading, a subsidiary of QuidelOrtho, and Shanghai Medconn Biotechnology, a subsidiary of Shanghai Runda Medical Technology, to develop and manufacture assays in China for QuidelOrtho's Vitros platform. Following a successful assay pilot program, the companies expect to begin developing a broader set of assays early this year in parallel with building out the joint venture organization in the Shanghai and Beijing areas.
