February 2017—Visiopharm A/S, headquartered in Hørsholm, Denmark, announced its acquisition of LRI Imaging AB, based in Sweden.

“We are now seeing diagnostic digital pathology take off, and not just in Scandinavia, but in large parts of Europe. An important experience from the last 10 years is that going digital is a major undertaking for the pathology lab. We are excited about this merger, which allows us to offer our joint experience and expertise in helping diagnostic pathology labs going digital—one cost-efficient and risk-free step at a time. Our joint expertise gives us a depth of practical expertise in all critical aspects of digital pathology, allowing us to become a true partner in helping pathology labs both implement and take full advantage of this type of technology,” Michael Grunkin, CEO of Visiopharm, said in a statement.
